in Ghent.

Dr. Laura H. Hills of this city has received a letter from her sister, Mrs. D. G. Baker, of Ghent, Beigium, detailing the hardships suffered in that country since the war began. The communication tells of the great exodus of people from Ghent and other cities in Belgium at the outbreak of the struggle, the shortness of provisions and the stringency of the money market. It also says that no newspapers are received save those published in Ghent, and little news of the war is forthcoming. Nearly all of the English people now in the city are making their headquarters at Mrs. Baker's bome, and it is practically impossible bome, and it is practically impossible for anyone to leave the country, as all the means of transportation have been selzed by the government for the use Soldiers Do Some Revolver Shooting. Many people from this city visited the troops in Hampton during their stay there, making the trip by auto and other means. Many of the sol-diers have been in town nights, and the local garages have been kept busy carrying them back at all hours of the night. Sometimes the trips were enlivened by pretty sharp revolver shooting, but the conduct of the soldiers has been on the whole very orderly, and there have been no serious disturbances.

Trolleymen to Pass Through Borough on Boston-New York Trip—Annual Outing of Danielson Firemen's Association-Troops Reviewed at Hamp-

Danielson is scheduled for a visit from representatives of the various street railway companies of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, Monday, when the party passes through the town on their unique troiley trip. The journey which will occupy practically two days will be made from the city of Boston to New York with the intention to call attention to the fact that through troiley trips are now possible between the two cities. This continuous ride without change of cars is made possible only through the completion of the last troiley link between Saybrook and New Haven.

The trip begins at 8 a. m., this morn-

The trip begins at 8 a. m., this morning, the start being made from the postoffice square at Boston, the party reaching New York city soon after 6 p. m., Tuesday evening after a running time of about eighteen hours. The stop for the night will be made at New London, although similar stops will be made for luncheon en route. The entire trip covers 282 miles, representing the longest trolley trip ever arranged. The Boston party will return from New York by train on Tuesday night while a similar party of New York men will start on the car for Boston on the following day. The special car which will be used to make this journey is especially equipped, the ordinary seats having been replaced by wicker chairs for the comfort of its occupants.

Planning for Inspection of Fire De-partment—Frank H. Cordier to Un-derge Second Operation—Putnam Woman in War Zone.

Members of the Putnam fire department are talking of plans for an annual inspection. The merchants generously contributed money for their field day last Thursday and there is a balance left which would go in part towards defraying expenses of an inspection and muster. If the common council encourages the plan it will doubtless be carried into effect within a month. An inspection has not been held in a number of years. The city is proud of its department and the citizens are always interested in any plans the men formulate and are always glad of an opportunity to inspect the department when it appears publicly for that purpose.

The trip was an in-teresting one, as the wireless picked up many messages on the way across, but the ship experienced no difficulty in making the voyage.

Mrs. S. Diamond in War Zone.

S. Diamond of this city is somewhat worried about the whereabouts of his wife in Europe. Mr. Diamond received a letter from her two weeks ago, and she was then with relatives in Germany. She wrote that within a few days she was going to Austria to visit other relatives, and since that time Mr. Diamond has heard nothing from his wife. In her letter she did not mention anything about the unsettled condition of the country of a possibility of war, probably little realizing that serious trouble was brewing, or she would have started for home as she was soon to come anyway.

A. A. Brouder went to New Haven Saturday to attend a meeting of the trustees of the grand court, Foresters of America, of which he is a member.

Held Farewell Services. Captain Nickerson of the Salvation Army held farewell services at the Army held farewell services at the barracks Sunday. She will retire from active work for a while and does not know where her next assignment will be. Who her successor will be is not as yet known. Brother Baker of Hartford conducted the services Sunday, and there was a large attendance, as Captain Nickerson has made many friends in the city.

ORITUARY Mrs. Lewis Williams.

Mrs. Lewis Williams, who lived in Putnam for 50 years, died Friday even-ing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. E. Ryther, East Hartford, at the ing health, due to advanced years, for some time.

Mrs. Williams was born in Che-patchet, in the town of Gloucester, R. L, the daughter of Thomas J. and Dorcas (Sayles) Owen. When a small girl she removed with her parents to Putnam, where her father engaged in contracting and building and built many of the houses in the north end of the city, where the family lived at that time, Mrs. Williams attended the school here and one of her teachers school here and one of her teachers was Lewis Williams. Mrs. Williams later herself became a teacher. The family removed from Putnam, going to Central Falls, R. I. While living there Mrs. Williams married her old teacher, Lewis Williams, and returned with him to Putnam and lived here until a few years ago, when she went to make her home with her daughter. Mr. Williams kept a store here for Mr. Williams kept a store here for many years. He died in 1876. Mrs. Williams leaves a sen, Lewis O. Williams, one of the proprietors of the Putnam Patriet, and one daughter, Mrs. O. E. Ryther, of East Hartford. A short funeral service will be held in East Hartford Monday morning, when the body will be brought to Putnam, and burial will be in the family lot in Grove street cemetery.

Died at Minneapolis.

Word has been received in Putnam of the death in Minneapolis, Minn., of Lieut. John F. French, about 70 years of age. Mr. French lived in Central Village and other places in this section years ago. His health was poor and he was ordered to go west. He located in Minneapolis, where he purchased land when the city was not much more than a thriving village. His property increased in value and he became one of the wealthy representative men of increased in value and he became one of the wealthy representative men of the city. His health also improved and he had not been ill since going west. His wife died in July 18, 1911, and the body was brought to Putnam for burial. Mr. French was subsequently married and his wife survives. The body will be brought to Putnam Monday and funeral services will be held in the Congregational church on Tuesday. Burial in Grove street cemetery. Local Notes.

A number of members of the progressive party from this city went to Hartford Saturday to attend the state rally, at which Colonel Roosevelt and George W. Perkins were the principal speakers.

More machinery arrived Saturday for the state trade school.

Rev. Mr. Stone of the Advent church preached an interesting sermon Sunday morning, taking for his subject War Dogs Let Loose, his remarks being based on Rev. 7: 1.

There was a large conspegation at the union service at the Metheodist church Sunday morning. These union services with the Congregational church will continue for a month, the place where the service is held alternating between the two churches.
